

Lords vote 2 to 1 to put tobacco out of sight of children

7th May 2009

Action on Smoking & Health today praised the House of Lords for putting children's health first following a vote to put tobacco out of sight in shops across England, Wales and Northern Ireland.

The move, which has been supported by over 100 health and welfare organisations, will close one of the remaining loopholes in the ban on tobacco advertising and will protect children from tobacco industry marketing. More

© Parliamentary copyright images are reproduced with the permission of Parliament